

Your Dreams Delivered

The design and installation of home theaters or electronic systems into a home or business is a team effort involving designers, craftsmen, programmers, electricians, installers. The goal is to apply the most current technology as it pertains to the room design, acoustics, video projection, and lighting. The ultimate effect is a custom integration of sight, sound, light and an enhancement to the beauty and function of the home or facility - exactly what you want your system to be.

Home Theater Design & Installation

Discover sights, sounds, and worlds of entertainment you never thought you'd experience in your home. It will change your life. Any room can function as your home theater - a bedroom, family room, den; and anytime is a good time to build the system of your dreams. Regardless of where the home theater is located, you will need three basic pieces of equipment: video, audio and control system. From home theater receivers, speakers, projectors and more, Venture Communications, Inc. can help you decide and design the best configuration for you. Having the right equipment is only part of the decision making process. The room you select, how the video screen and speakers are positioned, the types of remote controls used to operate the equipment, and even subtle shifts in lighting levels all affect the home theater experience. Whether your room is small and intimate or entertainment sized, Venture Communications, Inc. combines innovation and comfort in home theater design and installation. Staying home was never so enjoyable.

Let us show you the advantages a hometown company can provide for integrating your home electronic systems and simplifying your life.

Structured Wiring

Ideally, like the placement of telephone lines and wiring for lighting, the most cost effective time to install the preliminary wiring for your electronic home is during the design, construction, or renovation of the property.

Security Systems

Venture Communications, Inc. is a security service provider that you can trust, offering the best value for home security here in the state of Texas. We have a history of providing fast response, excellent service along with the best value for your dollar in town. Our customers quickly notice that the difference with Venture Communications is our ability to handle thousands of alarm accounts, while at the same time staying personally involved with each individual customer. Here at Venture, we take great pride in the fact that we are a privately owned company that genuinely cares about the security of each individual customer. We do not do any overseas outsourcing for our customer service which protect your home and family and provide peace of mind. These systems are simple to operate and easily integrate with other systems in the home.

Computer Networks - Wired & Wireless

Enjoy the features of an electronic home now and in the future. Venture Communications, Inc. provides leading IT consultants to work with your architect, contractor, and/or interior designer to design and build beautiful spaces free from electronic clutter and planned to support current and future technologies.

Surround Sound System

Whole House Audio entertainment systems can create the perfect lifestyle in your new or existing home with sounds so clear, it's like you are in the front row, no matter what room you are in. Your custom music server, satellite radio, and other media are custom configured and positioned for exceptional listening pleasure and accessible from everywhere. Individual room controls allow for diverse listening tastes.

Lighting Control

Illuminate the welcome warmth of your home, accent the décor, and add security and convenience with pre-programmed lighting modes. One button control creates dramatic entrances, illuminates pathways inside and out, sets a mood.

Cameras

Venture Communications, Inc. provides state-of-the-art surveillance systems which protect your home and family and provide peace of mind. These systems are simple to operate and easily integrate with other systems in the home.

Whole Home Systems

Integration

Venture Communications, Inc. is on the cutting edge when it comes to the design, installation and integration of easy-to-use affordable home automation products that can enhance your home life by giving you automated control of virtually every electrical device throughout your home or office.

Business/Corporate Services

The same dedication to quality, design and workmanship that we apply to your home can be carried through to your commercial, retail, corporate or professional business. Consider an audio system to enhance the image of a store and create ambiance in a restaurant. Integrate a video system to keep clients and patients relaxed and occupied in a waiting room. Install a surveillance system and an outside and/or interior lighting system with automated controls for increased security.

Whether its background audio, conference room video, or closed circuit monitoring, Venture Communications, Inc. has the experience to create and install the systems you need to improve your client/customer relationship.
